DESCRIPTIF

Large bay windows provide plenty of natural light in living areas featuring cathedral ceilings.

Thanks to solar and photovoltaic panels with storage batteries, a reversible heat pump and rainwater recovery systems, the property is extremely energy-efficient, and is aiming for total self-sufficiency in electricity.

There is ample storage space, with a basement covering the entire surface area of the two dwellings, as well as several greenhouses, sheds and a double carport.

The two houses, are side by side but not overlooked.
